A photograph of a church service. On a red-carpeted stage, a woman in a patterned top and dark skirt sings into a microphone with her right hand raised. To her left, a young girl in a red headband and another person are also singing. Behind the woman, a young man plays a red electric guitar. To the right, a young man sits at a drum kit. Further right, another young man is partially visible. The stage is backed by a large white curtain. A large screen on the right displays Spanish text over a blue sky and white mountains. In the foreground, the back of a person's head wearing a blue and white plaid shirt is visible, and a white computer monitor is partially seen at the bottom center.
